

National Institute on Aging

Reese Western
Writer-Editor
National Institute on Aging

National Institute
on Aging

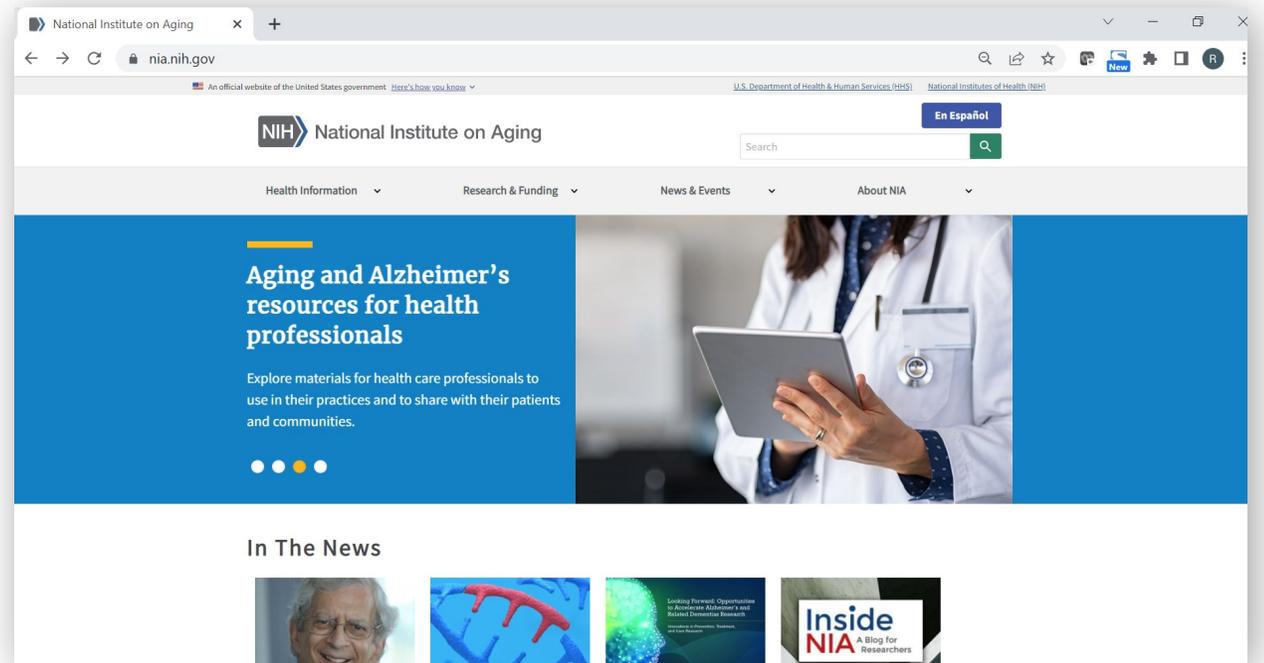

Background

- The National Institute on Aging (NIA) is one of the 27 Institutes and Centers of the National Institutes of Health (NIH).
- NIA seeks to understand the nature of aging and the aging process, and diseases and conditions associated with growing older, in order to extend the healthy, active years of life.
- NIA is the primary federal organization for conducting Alzheimer's and related dementias research.

NIA's Website

What will you find?

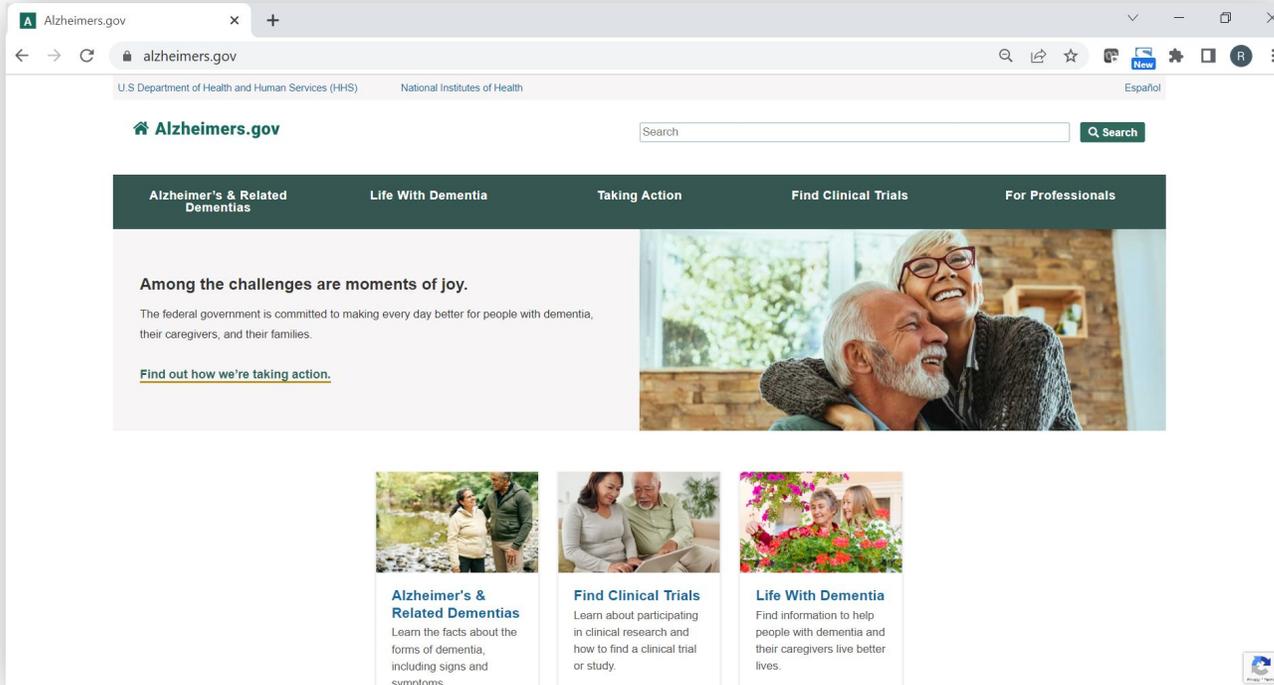

- Health Information
- Research & Funding
- News & Events
- Infographics
- Videos

<https://www.nia.nih.gov>

Also available in Spanish

Alzheimers.gov

<https://www.alzheimers.gov>

Also available in Spanish

- Led by NIA with resources from federal agencies.
- Offers health information on Alzheimer's and related dementias in English and Spanish.
- Resources for professionals who work with Alzheimer's and dementia patients.
- Information on clinical trials.

Clinical Trials Finder

The screenshot shows the 'Clinical Trials Finder' website. The navigation bar includes 'Alzheimer's & Related Dementias', 'Life With Dementia', 'Taking Action', 'Find Clinical Trials', and 'For Professionals'. The main content area is titled 'Clinical Trials Near You' and features a search bar with the ZIP code '21042' and a 'Find Clinical Trials' button. Below the search bar, there are filters for 'Available Online' and 'Approximate Distance'. The results section shows 'Total Results: 295' and lists two trials: 'FTD Disorders Registry' (Online) and 'Advance Care Planning for People With Cognitive Impairment' (12.1 Miles). The left sidebar contains filters for 'I'm interested in studies for' (Alzheimer's Disease, Caregiving Role, Down Syndrome, Mild Cognitive Impairment, No Cognitive Impairment, Related Dementias) and 'Narrow your results' (Accepts Spanish Speakers, Available Online).

<https://www.alzheimers.gov/clinical-trials>

- Search for trials near you
- Filter based on type of study:
 - Alzheimer's
 - Caregiving
 - Down syndrome
 - Mild cognitive impairment
 - Related dementias
- Filter by online-only studies
- Filter for Spanish speaking trials

Publication Ordering System

NIA's publications are free!

- AgePage brochures
- Easy-to-read booklets
- Tip sheets
- Handouts

Topics include:

- Alzheimer's resources
- Advance care planning
- Exercise and healthy eating
- Caregiving
- And more!

<https://order.nia.nih.gov>

Also available in Spanish

Infographics

NIA's infographics tell a visual story about a wide variety of issues, such as dementia, caregiving, exercise, and more that are pertinent to aging. They are great to share on Facebook, Twitter, or other social media platforms.

<https://www.nia.nih.gov/health/infographics>

Videos

Find videos on NIA's YouTube channel. We cover many different topics including Alzheimer's disease, caregiving, social isolation and loneliness, shingles, menopause, and much more!

NIA's YouTube Channel

Some videos available in Spanish

Multimedia Webpage

Resources For Professional Audiences

- Resources for Health Care Professionals
 - Diagnosing and managing Alzheimer's and related dementias
 - Doctor-patient communication
 - Talking to patients about clinical trials
- Alzheimer's Resources for Health Care Professionals
 - Federal resources, guidelines, trainings, etc.
- Alzheimer's Resources for Community and Public Health Professionals
 - Federal resources that support community programs, partnerships, etc.
- Brain Donation FAQ's
 - List of FAQ's to help support communication efforts about brain donation.

Check NIA out on Social!

Twitter – @NIHAging

- Research audience
- Share NIA-funded research, workshops, some health information content
- Host Twitter Chats

Facebook – National Institute on Aging – NIH

- General public, older adults, caregivers
- Share health information content
- Host Facebook live events

Sign Up for NIA's Listservs

NIA has a variety of email listservs where you can receive healthy aging tips, funding opportunity announcements, and more! We also have a Spanish language newsletter with health information for older adults.

Email frequency ranges from weekly to quarterly depending on the listserv.

<https://www.nia.nih.gov/about/stay-connected>

- Healthy aging highlights
- Caregiving tips & resources
- Alzheimer's
- Spanish
- Inside NIA Blog
- Alzheimer's clinical trial recruitment information
- NIA training and career development
- NIA funding opportunities
- NIA small business research funding

How Can NIA Help You?

- Share our health information articles with patients.
- Order or print NIA's publications to have in your office or to share with patients.
- Encourage patients to use the Clinical Trials Finder to locate Alzheimer's and related dementias trials near them, or help them search.
- Stay on top of the latest aging resources and research by following NIA on social media and signing up for our listservs.

We Want to Hear From You!

- What products do you find most useful when sharing information with patients? Articles, tip sheets, booklets, videos?
- What are popular questions or topics that come up pertaining to aging and older adults?
- What topics or questions do you need more resources on?

Thank you!

reese.western@nih.gov